Learning hub event aims to provide an up-to-date understanding of current structures, modalities and processes of global and national climate finance. It outlines issues for consideration to inform how national planning systems can be positioned to best access, govern and deliver these funds incorporating a proper Monitoring & Evaluation system. Successful monitoring and evaluation is needed to improve the project, highlight the successes and achievements and raise the profile of the project from the national to local communities. Subsequently, a good governance of finance is important for assuring that resources will be appropriately allocated, the spending will be tracked and the results generated. This will further support Bangladesh to draw down additional finances for more appropriate investments. The presentations and the following discussion will draw from global and regional experience. Please find the attached agenda. We look forward to interacting with you at this event.
