

Climate Finance Short Course

Annual 5 day course for government officials from developing countries
Venue: Dhaka, Bangladesh

Date: 31st January - 4th February 2016

Photo Credit: Bangladesh Climate Change Knowledge UNDP, and Amir Jina

Highlights

- ◆ Targeting government officials from developing countries, especially those from Ministry of Finance, Planning and representatives of National Designated Authorities (NDAs) for GCF
- ◆ Interactive course design for active knowledge generation
- ◆ Catalyse co-benefits of professional networking development
- ◆ South-South experience sharing and mutual learning

Learning objective: Strengthen government capacities to access, manage and deliver international and national climate finance more effectively

Course Structure: 3-day professional training, 1-day cross country learning, 1-day field visit. The course will cover 4 modules:

1. National governance of climate finance
2. International landscape of climate finance
3. Sub national mechanisms for devolved financing
4. Public private financing for climate change responses

Course Designers:

Neha Rai (IIED), Paul Steele (IIED),
Dr. Saleemul Huq (ICCCAD)

Resource Persons from:

IIED, ICCCAD, UNDP, UNITAR

Contact persons:

Neha Rai: neha.raiiied.org

Course fees:

- ◆ International: $ 1500 (includes all tuition, hotel accommodation and food, field visit, training materials, access to alumni facilities airport transfers - but not air tickets)
- ◆ National: $ 1,000. (includes all tuition, field visit, training materials, lunches, refreshments and access to alumni facilities, but not hotel)

